An observational cross-sectional study was carried out in a primary health care environment of the Catalan Health Institute. Over the next several decades, DuPont gradually phased out its use of lithopone pigment in favor of TiO2. In accordance with the rules and procedures of the 2010-2015 Council of Experts, the monographs—small molecules 2 expert committee has revised the monograph for carvedilol tablets.